AIRPORT CONSULTANTS COUNCIL

MEMBERSHIP CATEGORIES

☐ Executive members are private-sector firms that provide services in the aviation consulting profession. Firms that manufacture or sell aviation-related products or services are eligible to be Executive members on the condition that they provide professional aviation consulting services for a fee and such consulting services are independent and separate from the manufacture and sale of the product or service.

☐ Executive firms comprised of only one employee qualify as an Individual member—an Executive member subcategory. Individual members do not include member firms that are owned by one individual but have two or more employees. Individual members receive the same benefits as the Executive members and are listed in the directory as Executive members.

☐ Participating members are public sector or government-affiliated firms, educational institutions or associations engaged in activities directly related to the aviation industry.

☐ Associate members are private-sector firms that provide products and/or services for a fee to airports and the aviation industry and sell a service or product that requires interaction with Executive members and/or airport owners or operators.
